MARRIED BY THE CARDINAL

Miss Gorman United to Mr. Johnson at Her Home.

The Ceremony Was Witnessed Only by Immediate Friends of the Family—Other Society News.

The marriage of Miss Daisy Gorman, daughter of Senator Gorman, to Mr. Johnson took place at noon today at the Gorman residence on the corner of Fifteenth and K streets. Owing to the fact that the groom is in mourning for his father, Mr. Johnson, the marriage was very quiet, only the immediate relatives of both families being present at the ceremony and wedding breakfast which followed.

The ceremony took place in the front drawing-room, which was converted into a parlor of honor for the occasion. The room was decorated with flowers, and the young couple stood with hands joined, the bride in a gown of white duchess satin, trimmed with lace and the conventional orange blossoms, and carrying in her hand a bouquet of white orchids. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Perry Johnson.

Cardinal Gibbons, a personal friend of the Gorman family, arrived in the city this morning, and was driven to the house of Father Lee, by ex-Congressman Joseph Edward Hayden. The Cardinal officiated, having come over from Baltimore for the occasion.

Miss Gorman was dressed in black satin, with lace fichu; the Misses Gorman attended in costumes of light silk, with corsage bouquets of flowers. About thirty guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left later for a wedding trip, and on their return will reside at No. 1622 P street northwest.

Miss Estelle Phillips was tendered a surprise party at night by the Capitol Hill Glee Club at her home, on Seventh street northeast.

The guests came in a body, bringing with them a band of four pieces and a hamper of generous size. When the hostess found herself confronted by a house full of queer, silent beings in shapeless pink dominoes and with masks of the same color that entirely matched each head, she fled from the room, but was caught by one of the dumb ones, who presented her with a dress and mask, that enabled her to mingle with the motley throng unknown as herself.

Among the features of the evening were pantomime dances by Mr. John E. Bell and Mr. Harold Stacey, and a witch reel by Miss Estelle Brown, Miss Annie Carroll, Mr. Julius Wright and Mr. Harry Stanford. Among those present were: Miss Emma Wilson, Miss Maude Wright, Miss Carrie Mason, Miss Florence K. Ball, Miss Nellie Bright, Miss Harriet Miller, Miss Bell Forney, and Messrs. John F. Kasper, B. B. Clarke, Fred. Mahoney, J. K. Fellows, J. F. Nelson, and Messrs. Wright, Barrows, Brown and Neale.

Mr. John B. Clemens will give a stag party tomorrow night at his mother's residence, on Massachusetts avenue northeast.

Miss Grace L. Browne, of K street northeast, will entertain her fellow members of the Pink Carnation Club tonight at her home on Capitol Hill.

Miss Mamie Adelle Copp is home from college for the Thanksgiving holidays. She will remain until Sunday next, during which time she will be at home to her friends.

The friends of Miss Florence Henner will be glad to know that she has recovered from her recent illness and will be able to leave for Philadelphia immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays to resume her studies in art.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Willers of K street will leave Saturday for a Southern trip which will include Atlanta and all points of interest along the Florida coast.

Miss Jessie Miller will accompany her aunt, Mrs. B. B. Nelson of Baltimore in her annual visit to Asheville, N. C., where she will remain until February 1.

Col. P. R. Hauptmann of Georgia is the guest of R. M. Barrows of Capitol Hill. During his visit Col. Hauptmann will make a brief visit to Southern Maryland to try his luck with the canvas-backs and mallards on their Potomac feeding grounds, which are claimed by our District sportsmen to be the best water fields for game ducks in this part of the world.

The wedding of Miss Minnie Reinhardt, daughter of the late Dr. Reinhardt of Philadelphia, and Mr. Frank McClelland of this city will take place tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Church of Our Father, Thirteenth and L streets northwest-west.

At the marriage this evening of Miss Katherine Wright Saxton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Willard Saxton, to Mr. J. Edgar Miller, of Chicago, Miss Saxton will wear the conventional wedding dress of white satin. Miss Elizabeth Saxton, her sister and maid of honor, will wear a gown of light blue silk.

The groom will be attended by Mr. McDonald, of Springfield, who was Mr. Miller's college chum at Lehigh University. Only the mutual relatives and relatives of the young couple will be present. After the wedding trip, which includes a journey to New York, Boston, and Niagara Falls, the young couple will settle in Chicago.

Miss Talbot of Richmond, Va., is visiting Miss Lucile Fuller, on P street.

Miss Frances Benjamin Johnson will be at home this afternoon in her studio, No. 1332 V street.

Mrs. Vance has returned to the city and is at her home, on Massachusetts avenue. Her son, Mr. Henry Martin, and his wife will be with her this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittemore and Miss Wilcox have returned to the city, and their handsome home on New Hampshire avenue is open again, after being closed for the last six months while the Whittemore family were abroad.

The marriage of Congressman-elect Harry Skinner of North Carolina to Miss Ellen Skouteris, a niece of the wife of United States Senator Jarvis, was a surprise to all his friends. There were only present at the wedding, which was performed by Cardinal Gibbons at his residence, ex-Congressman Thomas G. Skinner, a brother of the groom, Representative Bettie, and the mother of the bride. Upon the return of Mr. and Mrs. Skinner to this city they will make their home at the Ebbitt House.

Miss Gertrude Rivers, who is in town with Miss Constance Page at No. 1214 K street northwest, strongly resembles her sister, the famous Mrs. Annie Rivers-Chandler, not only in personal appearance, but character. Miss Gertrude has quite a charge of friends and intends everything about the Rivers estate. She can talk crops and the good points in full of cattle with the most expert farmers.

Miss Maud Lyon, daughter of Mrs. Lucy A. Lyon, of No. 328 A street northeast, was married to Charles E. Schroeder of this city, at the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, at high noon today in the presence of a number of their relatives and friends.

The bride, robed daintily in white organdy, with cash and throat ribbons of broad white satin, and carrying bride roses tied with flowing bows, entered the church with her mother, who gave her hand in marriage.

They were preceded by four ushers—Mr. Will Buckingham, Mr. Peter Lewis, Mr. Ed Lewis and Mr. Clarence Schroeder, brother of the groom. They followed little Miss Winnie Schroeder, a tiny pink satin fairy, carrying a cluster of blossoms, who served as maid of honor to the fair young bride.

The groom joined them at the church, and while the Marine Band played nuptial music from Lohengrin, the ceremony was performed by Rev. George F. Lucecock, pastor of the church. The ceremony was followed by an informal reception to the bridal party, after which Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder left for a brief trip, and upon their return will be at home to their friends at No. 328 A street northeast.

Congressman Theodore L. Poole of the Twenty-seventh New York district, arrived last evening, and is domiciled at No. 6 Iowa circle. His wife and son are with him, and will remain until the holiday vacation.

This evening at 7:30 at the Church of the Reformation Miss R. Alice Riecks and Mr. Philip J. Schwartz will be married by Rev. W. E. Parsons. The ushers are: Louis Schaefer, E. Q. Gannon, Louis P. Weber, and Charles Brocker. After the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of the bride, No. 13 Fifth street northeast.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Langhorne and the Misses Langhorne have returned to their home in this city.

Cards are out from Mrs. Andersen, No. 1027 Vermont avenue, for a tea, Tuesday, December 3.

There was great disappointment among the hunting set, yesterday, over the postponement of the tea to have been given by Mr. E. S. Howland at Chevy Chase Club. The muddy roads and misty, rainy weather were, however, most propitious for the exhibition of the hunters and hounds, which was to have been part of the fun, so the affair has been delayed until Saturday afternoon.

Today being Donation Day at Epiphany Church, No. 1319 H street, the lunch room will be open from 12 to 9 o'clock.

Mr. George E. Ruhl, entertained the "ivy leaf pleasure club" last evening at his residence, by giving a musicale in their honor. The entertainment was opened by dancing, and later on followed by refreshments, the table and room being elaborately decorated on the occasion.

Some of those who took part in the musical were, Mr. George E. Ruhl, recitation and other solo; Mr. E. Brown, violin solo; Miss Anna Kingsley, fancy dancing; Mr. W. Tennyson, solo; and numerous others.

The festival of the American Holidays last night at Willard Hall was under the auspices of the John A. Logan corps of East Washington, and the George H. Thomas corps of Anacostia, and highly successful in every respect. The address of welcome was delivered by Commander Thomas J. Crisp of Thomas Post, and was followed with remarks by Commander Elio Logan Post, and other prominent speakers. Corporal Turner having been summoned unexpectedly to New York, his place on the programme was respectfully left unfilled.

The entertainment of the evening was prefaced by a prayer by Rev. E. O. Edridge, followed by an array of well-known local talent, and selections by Dorothy Houchen, Mrs. John Hoffman, Mr. J. H. Cuthill, Mrs. Ada O. Leech, Miss Lilian Holmes, and Miss Elia Lawson. The hall was patriotically draped with bunting and the stage, fairy-like, with colored lights, chrysanthemums and pine.

Around the walls were prettily decorated refreshment tables, the candy booth being in charge of Mrs. Thatcher, assisted by Miss Rose Meacham; the miscellaneous table, Mrs. Kate Mallott and Miss Florence Howell, and the flower temple, under the supervision of Mrs. Dorsey, aided by the Misses Howell and Miss Julia O. Meacham.

Ice cream was served by Mrs. Mary Crawford, president of the Logan Corps, Miss Maggie Teal, and Miss Leonard. Mrs. Jane McLean, of the Thomas Corps, and Mrs. M. Dorsey, of the Logan Corps, were the committee in charge of the evening's entertainment, and it was to their endeavor, together with Mrs. Amanda Houchen, general chairman, and Mrs. Rosemead B. Meacham, president of the Thomas Corps, that the evening was so successful.

Miss Genevieve Hawley entertained a number of her young friends yesterday afternoon from 5 to 7, in compliment to her hostess, Miss Idalia Stevens, of Montreal, Canada, who will remain in Washington until spring. Miss Stevens sang several beautiful songs, with violin and piano accompaniments, by Miss Hawley and Miss Rose Weber, and a mandolin duet was rendered with feeling and skill by Misses Stella and Amanda Wright of Alexandria. Among those present were: Miss Nettie Price, Miss Mary E. Jones, May and Alice Stanford, Miss Julia Bright, Mr. Frank Lawrence, Mr. John Hall, Mr. F. F. Coyle, Mr. B. Donovan, and Mr. Jack B. Wise.

An enjoyable surprise party was given to Mr. Arthur Bennett by his parents in honor of his birthday, at the Regent hotel, No. 33 H street northwest, on Monday evening. Among those present were: Misses Emma Matchett, Mrs. A. F. Harper, J. J. Keefer, C. M. Armstrong, C. E. Deitwiler, F. H. Reardon, William Woodford, E. Bennett and R. W. Brown.

Miss Maud Lyon, daughter of Mrs. Lucy A. Lyon, of No. 328 A street northeast, was married to Charles E. Schroeder of this city, at the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, at high noon today in the presence of a number of their relatives and friends.

Beginning today and continuing through this week we will present free to each and every purchaser of our Butterine a handsome Steel Engraving—the masterpiece of ROSA BONHEUR, that gifted artist. She is the acknowledged finest living painter in the world today. This steel reproduction of this celebrated artist's masterpiece is elegant in every particular. It is guaranteed a steel engraving of the highest quality. The offer is an extraordinary one. This steel engraving framed will look well alongside the finest painting or engraving you may have in your parlor. The subject is

PHARAOH'S HORSES.

The Why of It.

You may ask the question, How can they afford to do it? Well, we can't as far as dollars and cents are concerned. We will lose money at first—but we want everybody to try our Butterine. A great many of you are using it now. We have a record for holding customers after we sell to them once. We want to show you that Butterine is better than Butter. The Butter men are sore all over. They don't like to see us do business. They are jealous. You have been paying them exorbitant prices for their butters, and they naturally dislike to see their business get away from them—but the tide has turned in our favor, and no earthly power can change its direction. Every great reform has met with similar opposition—the complaints and criticism of those financially affected by its growth. They would knowingly sacrifice the interests of millions of poor people to benefit themselves.

Above all, we want you to have one of these beautiful steel engravings—and try our Butterine. If we sell you once that settles it—it's good-by to Butter—good by to rancidity

Our Butterine Book.

We have just published a 16-page Butterine Booklet. We have already distributed 35,000 of them. We have one for you if you haven't got one yet. In the Booklet we have tried to give a thorough, terse talk on the subject of Butterine.

There is no question about Butterine being better than Butter. Nearly every one is of that opinion. It is merely a question of getting people to try it. The first minute that the finest pound of creamy butter is made it is as good as our Butterine, but the next minute it is not as good, and each succeeding minute it is less wholesome. If you only knew as much about our Butterine as we know it would be mighty hard for butter to find a market. We want the public to know all they can about our Butterine. Increased general knowledge on the subject means increased business for us.
